

4. Tyranny by any other Name...

Student Name _____ Date _____

Answer the following questions.

1) How is this allegorical tale also a rhetorical tale?

2) What is Orwell trying to persuade the audience to see or understand?

3) What is Orwell cautioning his audience against?

4) How does the story of Boxer act as a persuasive argument against tyranny?

5) What are the lessons to be learned from Napoleon's behavior?

6) What is the warning contained in the changes to the list of commandments?

7) What is the lesson contained in the final, single commandment: All animals are equal but some animals are more equal than others?
